Dear Dr. Lassi:

The Missouri State Board of Registration for the Healing Arts has reviewed your request for licensure to practice as a physician and surgeon in the State of Missouri.

It was the decision of the Board to deny your request for licensure pursuant to Section 334.103.2 RSMo 2004, which states, in pertinent part, as follows:

“Anyone who has been denied a license, permit or certificate to practice in another state shall automatically be denied a license to practice in this state. However the board of healing arts may set up other qualifications by which such person may ultimately be qualified and licensed to practice in Missouri.”

The Board will consider reapplication for licensure upon receipt of proof of ABMS certification.

If you wish to appeal the Board's denial you may do so by filing a formal complaint with the Administrative Hearing Commission pursuant to Chapter 621, RSMo. The Administrative Hearing Commission will hold a formal adversarial hearing at which time you may be represented by an attorney. It will be incumbent upon you to provide by admissible evidence that you are entitled to a license.

According to Section 621.120, you must file the complaint “within thirty days after the delivery or mailing by certified mail” of this notice. You may contact the Administrative Hearing Commission at P.O. Box 1557, Jefferson City, Missouri 65102.

Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact this office.

Sincerely,

Tina Steinman
Executive Director
